Why Liverpool?

A former European Capital of Culture, Liverpool has a diverse and multicultural population as one of the world's most famous ports.

Music runs through the heart of the city, from its most celebrated sons the Beatles to classical excellence in the form of the Royal Liverpool Philharmonic.

With two Premier League football clubs loved worldwide and the annual Grand National taking place at the famous Aintree racecourse, Liverpool is no stranger to sporting accolades and global audiences.

Store First Liverpool is located in the Speke area of the city, in the thriving Estuary Banks development close to Liverpool's John Lennon Airport.

The airport – one of the city's major employers – sees more than 4 million passengers per year. An ever increasing destination list of more than 60 spans across Berlin, Ibiza, Krakow, Oslo, Paris and Prague with continual investment programmes ensuring its position as one of the UK's leading airports.

From the Albert Dock's iconic Three Graces, overlooking the famous waterfront on the UNESCO World Heritage Site Mercantile City, Liverpool is a city full of innovation and vision.

Two universities make for a flourishing student population channelling a constant flow of income into the city's economy, while the growing popularity of Liverpool One shopping complex shows the city's retail landscape is booming.

Other leading employers include Halewood Land Rover Jaguar manufacturing plant, Sony, HM Passport Office, Barclays, Royal Bank of Scotland, Lime Pictures and online retailer Very.

Fast access into Liverpool is guaranteed thanks to direct rail links with London, Manchester and Birmingham from Lime Street Station, motorway connectivity via the M62 and a sophisticated bus network.
